FREDERICK, Md. — Come out for a story-filled weekend at the grand opening event of the new headquarters of Amori's Book Emporium, Friday, June 5 through Sunday, June 7 on Carroll Creek. Experience reading, writing and art workshops, live performances, fun for the family and more, all while enjoying the charm of beautiful, Historic Downtown Frederick. The store itself will feature discounted prices on items all weekend.

The grand event begins with an exclusive, black tie ribbon cutting ceremony of the new building on Friday evening. To RSVP, please contact the marketing manager here. After the ceremony, patrons can peruse the collections while enjoying refreshments, drinks and live performances by local artists.

Saturday features scavenger hunts detailing Downtown Frederick and Amori's Book Emporium. Clues and items are hidden throughout various shops and businesses in the town, with prizes for winners. Refreshments will be available for purchase, as well as raffle tickets for select book editions, art pieces, and show passes at the Weinberg Center. The day ends with live performances by local artists at the Baker Park Bandshell.

On Sunday, families can attend various workshops featuring tips on reading, writing skills for creative writers and journalists alike and professional development for other up-and-coming businesses in the field. Children can enjoy arts and crafts sessions with local artists.
